Q14

Please describe the progress of your campaign and goals in 200 words or less. Why are you running for this position? How do you plan to win?

I am a long time advocate of responsible environmental stewardship, rooted in my childhood in a low income family that relied on free parks for physical and mental growth. Because I work on the front lines of youth outreach in low income and underserved areas, I see the need for healthy environments for our youth.

Q15

What issues do you think aren't getting enough attention from media or elected officials? How would you seek to remedy that through your campaign or when elected?

I believe that we can always use better outreach and communication with our local media outlets and elected officials. The key is to share personal stories of how damage to our environment affects our overall city well being.

Page 4: Questions for King County Conservation District Candidates

Q16

What are your 6-month and long-term priorities with the King County Conservation District around conservation in King County and how would you achieve them?

My 6 month and long term priorities include review of all parks and rec locations and the development of city, county, and community partnerships to ensure equity across the city.

Q17

There are cities, suburban, and rural areas that do not participate in the conservation district (i.e. Federal Way, Milton, Pacific, Skykomish, and Enumclaw), how would you bring awareness and engage them to join? How do you plan to bring awareness about conservation and KCD in the urban, suburban, and rural areas of King County?

Personal outreach explaining the benefits of a healthy partnership with the Conservation District.

Q18

Please explain the intersection between racism, poverty, and climate change, and discuss how you would apply and prioritize Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in decision making.

The intersection between racism, poverty, and climate change all come down to resource allotment. Resources allotment controls informational resources which drive community support and voter turn out, which in turn controls how much financial support is provided. My plan is to be a loudspeaker for communities who do not have a seat at the table. My 20+ years of volunteerism and advocacy in our underserved areas show a true and honest dedication to bringing equity to all Seattleites.
